The email body text is partially visible, mentioning 'We have reached a decision regarding your submission to Biodiversitas Journal of Biological Diversity, "THE GROWTH AND YIELD RESPONSES OF TWO BEAN CULTIVARS TO ORGANIC AND INORGANIC NITROGEN SOURCES".' and 'Our decision is to: Decline Submission'.

This screenshot shows the same Gmail interface as above, but with the metadata popup removed, revealing the full text of the email:

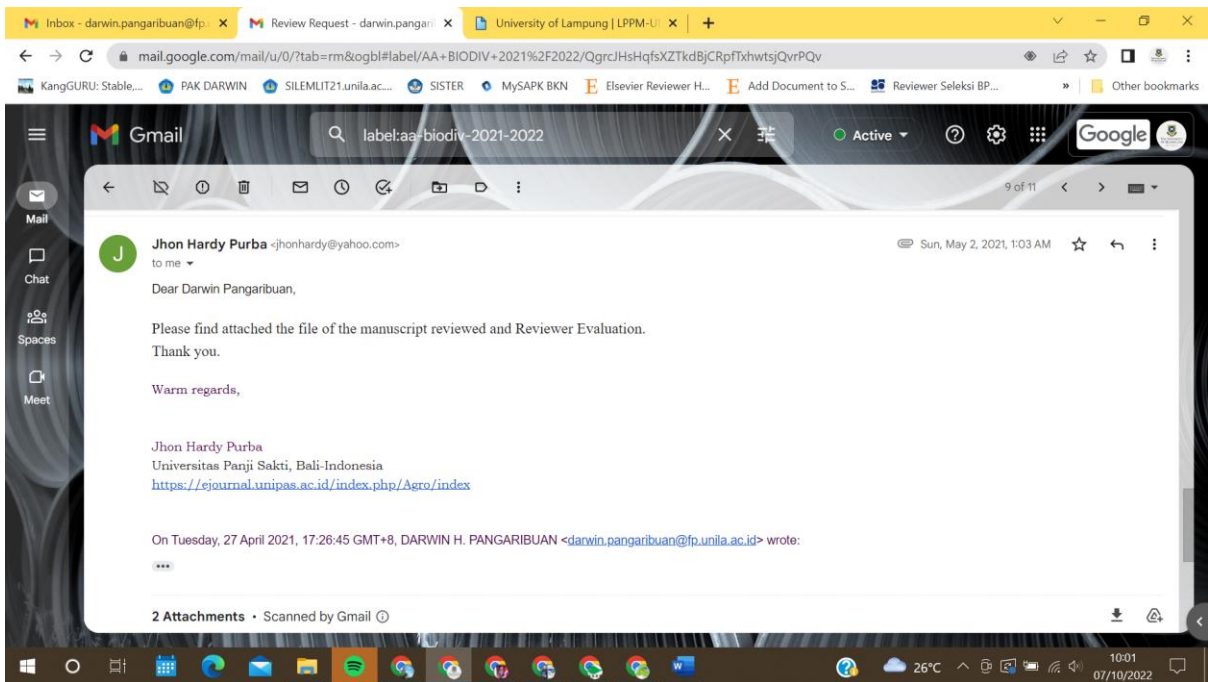

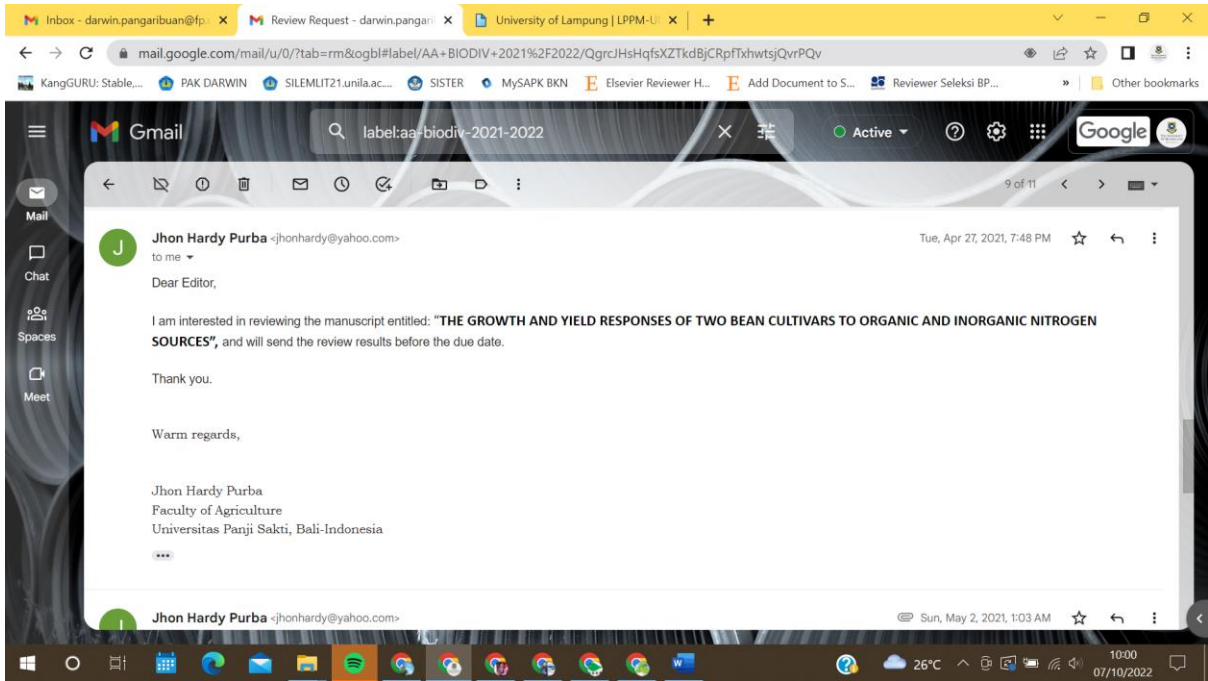

Darwin H. Pangaribuan, Ermawati Ermawati, Ni Made Widi Suryani, Wahyu Sara Maria:

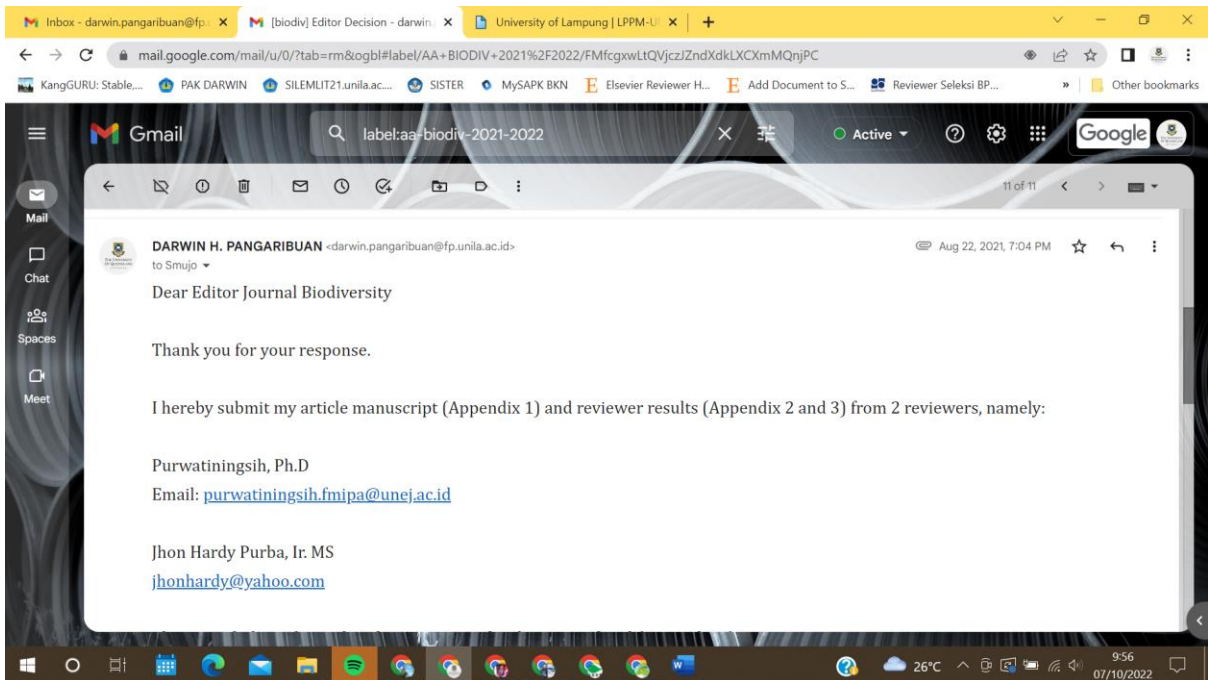

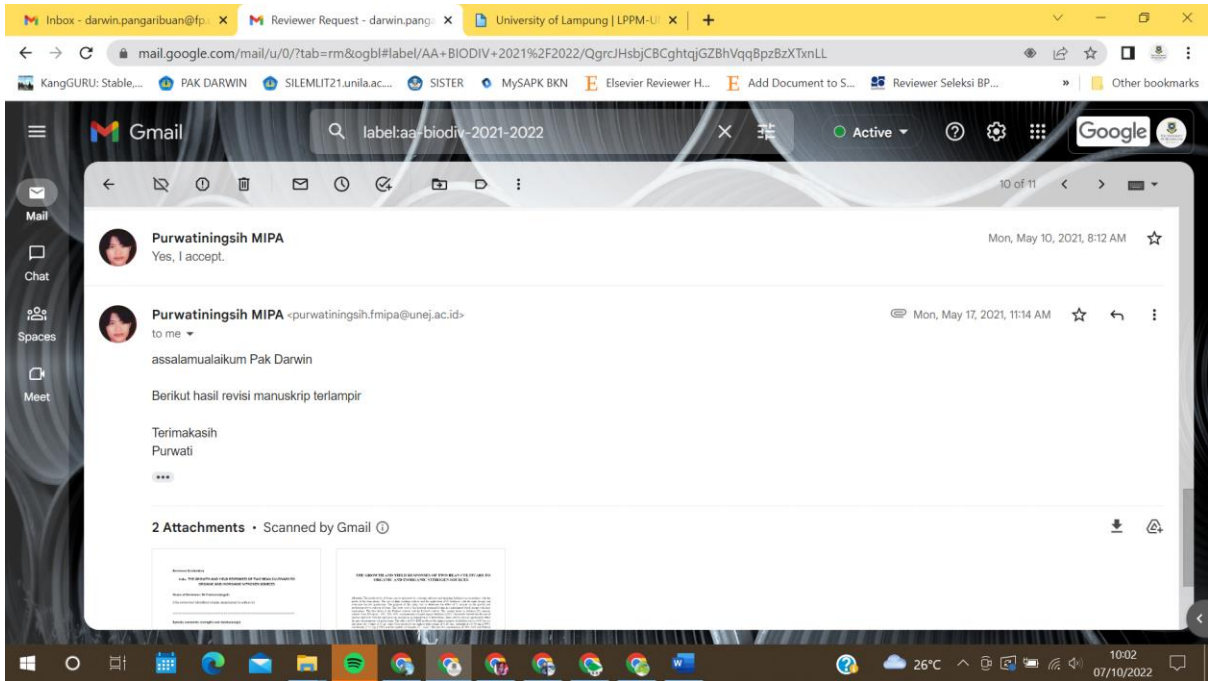

We have reached a decision regarding your submission to Biodiversitas Journal of Biological Diversity, "THE GROWTH AND YIELD RESPONSES OF TWO BEAN CULTIVARS TO ORGANIC AND INORGANIC NITROGEN SOURCES".

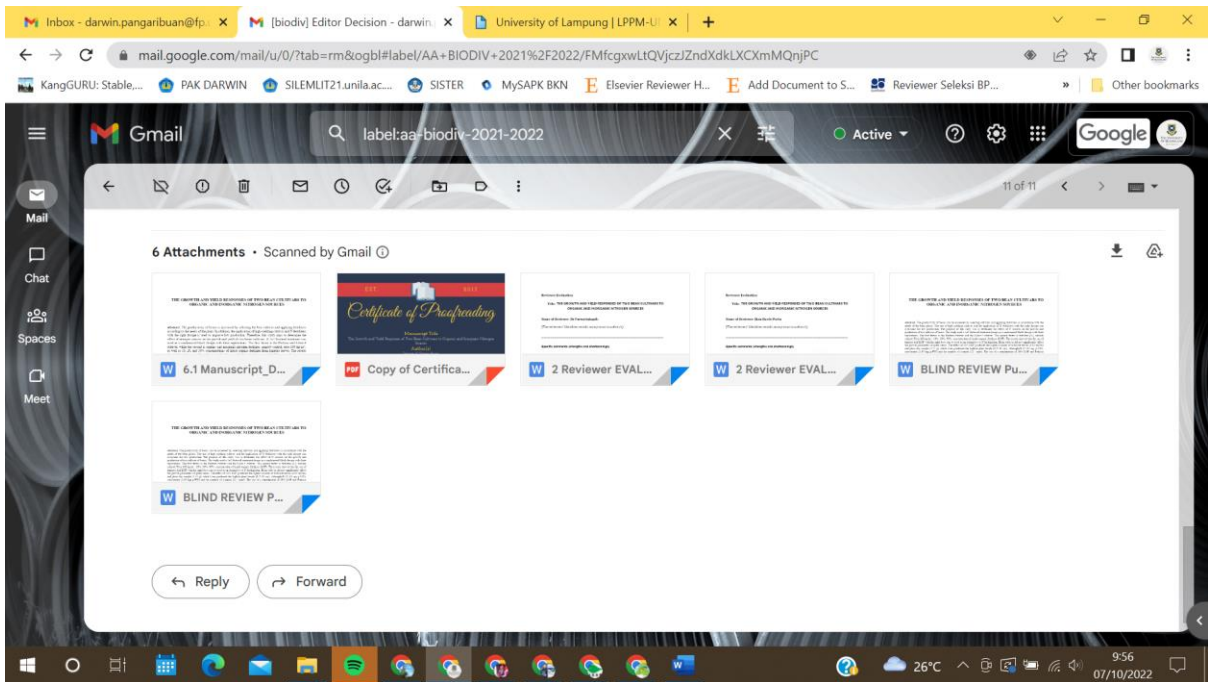

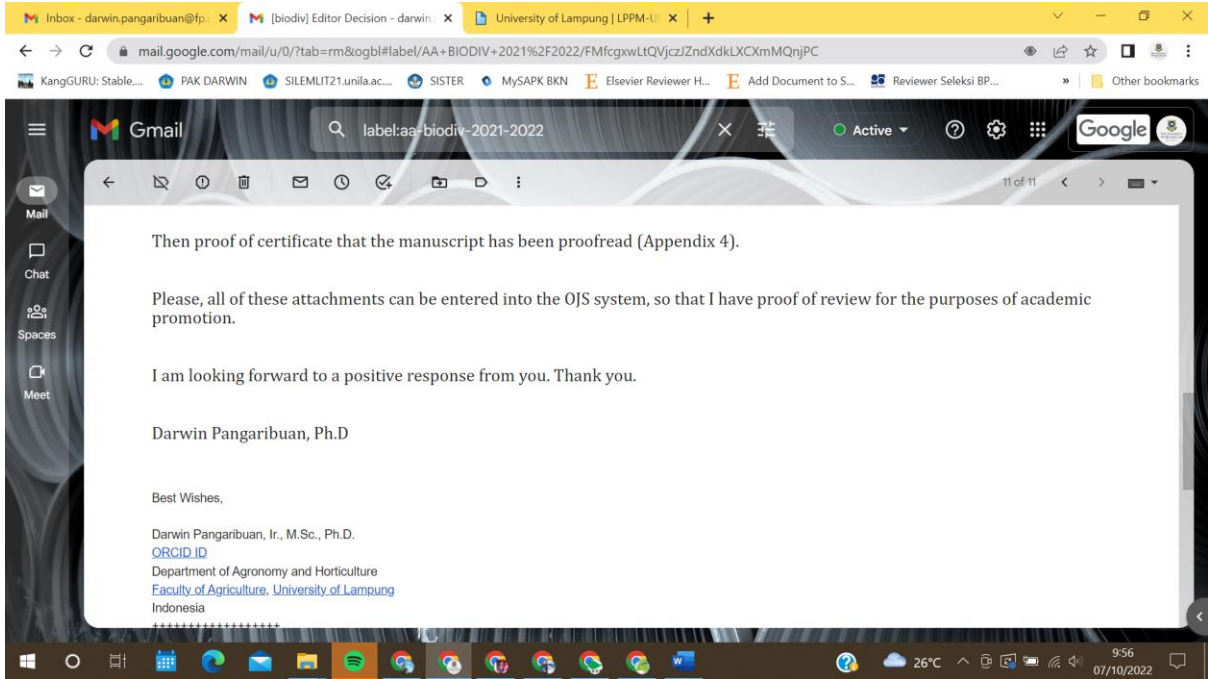

Our decision is to: Decline Submission

Note: We have invited c. 20 experts but no one wants to review. So, please make your "own-review" by sending your paper to at least two reviewers, and one professional language proofreader; then sending us your final revised paper along with comments from the two reviewers (incl. name & email address) and language editing certificate.

Reviewer A:

Dear Authors,

Despite this research topic and the whole paper are rather interesting, there are considerable problems with the structure of the manuscript. I found some inconsistencies with the quality of English, and in the spelling of some terms. I left my comments and some corrections in the manuscript file, attached to my review. Please, pay special attention to my comment related to the structure of the manuscript (Discussion vs. Results). I would be glad to see the corrected manuscript again together with your answers to my comments and suggestions.

Recommendation: Revisions Required
