WELCOMING REMARK

Dear Colleagues,

The Institute for Research and Community Services of Universitas Lampung was honoured to host the Third Universitas Lampung International Conference on Social Sciences (ULICoSS) 2022. On behalf of the 3rd ULICoSS 2022 Organizing Committee, I would like to extend my heartfelt congratulations to all participants in this event.

This is the third year for us to organize this conference. Despite the fact that world citizens are clearly confronted with the COVID-19 pandemic and continue to be endangered by its health consequences, we, as academics, researchers, and students must not stop voicing and disseminating our research findings to an international audience, either through conferences or publications in journals or proceedings. This is one of our contributions to the development of society and humanity.

We are aware that the COVID-19 pandemic has had a significant impact on the world, with the majority of study studies to date focusing on the virus's negative impacts on health. Consequently, social adjustment is necessary for resilience to adapt to and adapt to adversity. In other words, global resilience relies primarily on social adjustment, which consists of the distinctive behaviours and abilities that individuals employ to deal with everyday problems and adapt to changing conditions.

With a remarkable line-up of keynote speakers from the University of Szeged (Hungary), Masaryk University (Czech Republic), Kobe University (Japan), and Universitas Lampung (Indonesia), the 3rd ULICoSS 2022 promises to be both exciting and informative. This conference is a venue for the sharing of specific alternative and research findings in the social adjustments for global resilience, with a focus on, among other topics, global society, social welfare and development, as well as innovative communication. Therefore, scholars, academics, researchers, experts, practitioners, and university students are expected to share their perspectives, experience, and research findings at this event to obtain an enhanced understanding of global resilience issues and solutions.

We received a total of 170 abstracts, of which 104 full papers were submitted by authors from all around the world. Subject to the terms and conditions, we will also assist the authors in publishing their full articles in Web of Science (WoS) and/or Scopus-indexed conference proceedings.

We would like to thank the members of the organizing committee for putting in so much effort to ensure the conference's success daily, as well as the reviewers for their commitment to reviewing submissions. In conclusion, the conference would not be possible without the excellent papers submitted by authors. We value the participation and efforts of all authors in the 3rd ULICoSS 2022.

We wish all participants of the 3rd ULICoSS 2022 in Bandar Lampung, Indonesia, a pleasant scientific conference. We hope that the authors, participants, and the public in general will benefit from this event. We look forward to seeing you at the 4th ULICoSS 2023 international conference next year.
