Dear Respectful Authors

Thank you for submitting the final paper on time! However, we found the final revision paper that you have uploaded via easychair still not meet our publisher standards

- Using the attachment template (please adjust the Font Size, Author information according to the template by simply copy and replace value)
- Using MENDELEY citation machine
- Using IEEE not APA style

We hope you all understand, the more precise we submit the template using the publisher format the quicker we can speed up the SCOPUS proceeding indexed process. We will wait for the final revision of your paper by October 29th, 2020 max. Please upload the final paper format via Easychair system by replacing the old one. Thank you for your kind understanding.
