Reviewer M:

First and foremost there are so many typological mistakes that the author must look into.

I would like to request the authors to kindly incorporate the soil properties of the concerned agroforestry systems also the author must also highlight the soil carbon stock as they have mentioned about the C sequestration potential.

Recommendation: Resubmit for Review

Dear Editor of Biodiversitas Journal,

We have revised our article based on comments from reviewers A and M. Regarding comments from reviewer M in email about soil carbon stock; In this study we conducted an analysis of the carbon stock in the aboveground biomass so that the analysis of belowground biomass (the soil carbon stock) was not carried out. In this email we also attach a certificate of proofreading our article. Hopefully this article can be published in the Biodiversity Journal.

Thank you and best regards,
Rommy Qurniati
