About Us

International conference on Social, Humanities, Economics, Law and Development is the first international conference organized by the Graduate Program of University of Lampung (Unila), in collaboration with institute of research and community service (LP2M) Unila, and supported by several Faculties in University of Lampung. Several speakers from the international scientific institute will be invited to participate in this event. This seminar will be held in Lampung, a province in the southern part of Sumatra, which is rich in cultural diversity.

This international conference is an event for researchers, practitioners and stakeholders to share information and discuss the recent developments and innovations in the field of Social, Humanities, Economics, Law and Development. In addition, a variety of issues and problems that arise in these areas can also be brought to the forum so that all participants can contribute to solving the problem.
